Patios, Sidewalks, & Driveways

Patios, Walkways and Driveways are usually built to accommodate different activities. A patio can be used much like a deck but offers a more natural ground level blending of the outdoor elements. A walkway can be a meandering path through a lush colorful garden or it can be used to direct foot traffic to a determined destination. A driveway can be part of a grand estate entrance or serve as a place for the kids to play basketball. Regardless of their purpose, by choosing or combining the many different available materials all three can be constructed to reflect the character and personality of the home and or it's owner.
